Police are reminding drivers to renew license plates when they expire. It's become more of a concern since the Ontario government scrapped the stickers and fees associated with renewal.

In February of last year, the Ontario government announced an end to license plate renewal fees and a refund to drivers for the cost of renewal for the past two years.

However, the move did not end the requirement to renew licenses and ensure insurance premiums and any outstanding tolls or municipal fines are paid.

OPP said license renewal notices no longer automatically come in the mail, although drivers can sign up through Service Ontario online to receive digital reminders.

If you have any questions, comments, or concerns, please contact the Municipal Office, or any member of Council:
